

Mathematicians, we need your help! Did you know that curators are responsible for planning what goes in each museum exhibit? In addition to picking out which artifacts to display, curators also think about how much additional area is left over in a room, so that visitors have space to walk around and see all the cool artifacts!

Using your knowledge of arrays and area, plan which display case will go in each room AND figure out how much space is left for the visitors.