

Hello and good morning!

Today is our first Estimation Vitamin of the year! An estimation is an educated guess or prediction.

Our pumpkin trip is just around the corner! We have some pumpkin seeds in jars set out in the classroom. Take a look inside and make a prediction about which jar has the fewest seeds.

Which do jar do you think has the most seeds?

Which one do you think is in between?

Estimate how many seeds you think are in the jar with the most seeds.

Write down your predictions on a post-it (or board/journal etc) .
