

Good morning!

Greetings landscape architects! I found a blueprint of a garden design near my web and I wonder if it is one that Nicki is considering for our new garden? It may not be sufficiently useful to her, however, since it appears to be missing some important information. Could you offer your expertise and figure out the missing information?

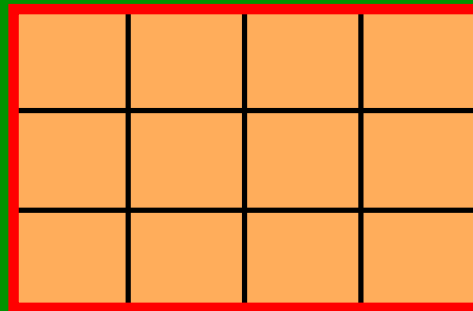

It might help Nicki to label:

the area the boxes will cover in the garden

the dimensions of the rectangular footprint of the boxes

the perimeter to help determine the amount of wood needed to go around the flower boxes

$A = 12 \text{ ft}^2$
 $P = 14 \text{ ft}$
