

Good Morning!

This morning we're going to see The Princess and the Pea. In the story the queen has come up with a plan to test the different princesses by having them sleep on a bed made of different amounts of mattresses. Three servants are supposed to be working to stack the tower of mattresses, but one of the workers called in sick. Take the place of the sick servant and finish the job to reach the queen's desired tower of mattresses.

