

Good Morning!

Over the river and through the woods to Oxbow Farm we go!
Next week, we'll travel to the farm to harvest some vegetables for our annual Stone Soup celebration. Antsy Nancy and Grant the Ant have already perused the vegetables that we may pick. In fact, they've even had a few nibbles of each! Each bite equals one unit. How many bites does it take to eat a red beet? How about a yellow squash? Dark green dinosaur kale? Try them all! Build, record and write equations for your vegetables. Mmmm!
