

Good morning! Today is Friday, September 28, 2012.

Nancy Drew and her friends notice that the ride requirements at Big Thrills Fun Fair are measured in centimeters. "I guess that makes sense that they use standard measurement," Nancy jokes, "because not everyone knows how many staplers tall they are!" Good thing that she knows that she is 150 centimeters tall!

Use base ten blocks to determine your height in centimeters. Record and label your measurements and write your equations on your body outline. Have fun, measurers!
